Dr Michael Schlemmer, LL.M.

Michael advises on all issues relating to private construction law, plant engineering law and real estate law. He represents principals and contractors in disputes both in and out of court. A key practice area for Michael is advising on the enforcement and defence of claims in large-scale construction and plant engineering projects (claim or anti-claim management). In the course of his legal project management activities, he is involved at every stage of a project, from drafting contracts to avoid conflict, negotiating contracts, through tendering and execution right through to the warranty phase.
